

SMOKE AND FIRE DETECTORS SAVE LIVES

Every year in Japan since 2003, more than 1,000 people have died in house fires and majority of them just couldn't get out in time. Many of these tragedies could have been prevented.

To protect yourself
from house fires,
please install smoke
and fire detectors in your bedroom and so on.

For more information about smoke and fire detectors please call your local fire station.

| | | |
|-----------------------|---|------------------|
| Fire Bureau | Fire Prevention and Inspection Division | TEL 072(238)6005 |
| Sakai Fire Station | Fire Prevention Division | TEL 072(228)0119 |
| Naka Fire Station | Fire Prevention Division | TEL 072(277)0119 |
| Higashi Fire Station | Fire Prevention Division | TEL 072(286)0119 |
| Nishi Fire Station | Fire Prevention Division | TEL 072(274)0119 |
| Minami Fire Station | Fire Prevention Division | TEL 072(299)0119 |
| Kita Fire Station | Fire Prevention Division | TEL 072(250)0119 |
| Mihara Fire Station | Fire Prevention Division | TEL 072(362)0119 |
| Takaishi Fire Station | Fire Prevention Division | TEL 072(266)0119 |

Sakai City Fire Bureau

To save your life

FIRE PREVENTION TIPS

Cigarette Fires

- Never smoke in bed
- Regularly clear away cigarette butts

Heater Fires

- Never put laundry, futon or other easily flammable things close to the heater
- Turn it off when refilling, going out and before going to bed

Gas Cooker Fires

- Watch your clothes when you're close to the gas cooker
- Don't leave it on if you are not close by

Electrical Outlets

- Please do not put too many plugs in one outlet

- Clean them regularly so they don't become dangerously dusty

Arson

- Make sure the area around your house is as well lit as possible and don't leave newspapers or magazines lying around.

